
Certificate of Expertise in Business Rules Exam

Duration: 1 Days Course Code: EX465

Overview:

Red Hat® Certificate of Expertise in Business Rules exam is a performance-based exam. Individuals who earn the Red Hat Certificate of Expertise in Business Rules have demonstrated the skills and knowledge to implement and manage business logic using Red Hat JBoss BRMS.

IT professionals taking this exam will be asked to perform a number of tasks, ranging in complexity from implementing very simple business rules using decision tables, to creating relatively complex business logic flows that require the use of conflict resolution techniques to ensure that the various rules fire in the correct order. Candidates are then evaluated on how well their implementations meet objective criteria such as producing a specific output given a specific set of inputs.

Familiarize yourself with the tools, environment, and requirements of the Red Hat Certificate of Expertise in Business Rules exam. This exam is based on Red Hat JBoss BRMS v6.3.

Target Audience:

Experienced enterprise Java developers who are familiar with service-oriented architecture (SOA) principles and JBoss ESB Enterprise SOA architects with some Java development experience and knowledge of JBoss ESB

What you need to know

Attendance in the class is not required, so one can choose to take just the exam. Many successful candidates who have come to class already possessing substantial skills and knowledge have reported that the class made a positive difference for them.

While attending Red Hat classes can be an important part of one's preparation to take this exam, attending class does not guarantee success on the exam. Previous experience, practice, and native aptitude are also important determinants of success.

Many books and other resources for Red Hat's products are available. Red Hat does not officially endorse any as preparation guides for its exam. Nevertheless, you may find additional reading deepens understanding and can prove helpful.
